

Fund Use on Bonds Outlined

Approximately $26,000,000 will be spent on elementary, junior and senior high school and junior colleges in the harbor area if a $158,000,000 bond issue is approved in the June 3 election.

Ellis A. Jarvis, Los Angeles superintendent of schools, today gave a breakdown on proposed construction and site acquisition in the district near Torrance.

New elementary schools will receive $3,948,000; junior and senior high schools, $18,631,000; and junior colleges, $5,330,000.

Siamese Bites Torrance Woman

A red collared Siamese cat is under 14-day observation at the San Pedro Humane Society today after biting Mrs. R. E. Blevins, 22419 Halldale, Sunday.

The cat was observed Saturday in a late model pink and black car parked across the street from the Blevins home at the Normandie playgrounds. When it appeared in the Blevins yard later, Mrs. Blevins fed it and kept it hoping that the owners might come back to the location to find their cat. She is hopeful now that they will contact the Humane Society for their pet. Should they wish to contact her they may call FA 8-9307.

Welcome Sign Not Hospitable

A "Welcome to Torrance" sign proved somewhat inhospitable to Harry E. Combury of 2303 Compton Blvd., Gardena, when he sheared it off with his auto.

Torrance firemen stood by to guard against fires from hot wires which dangled from the damaged sign at 174th st. and Gramercy pl.

Funds will also be devoted to expansion of Harbor Junior College, L. A. Trade Technical College, and a master plan for the development of South Central Junior College at Imperial hwy. and Western ave.

POSTAL GOODBYE—A gift is presented to Ted Messerve, center, who retired this week after 30 years service as a post office clerk. He was in the Torrance Post Office since 1944. Making presentation are Postmaster Clara Conner, left, and Bob Venable, president of Local 1043 of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks.

Cat Law Hearing Tuesday

Hearing on the first of two ordinances directed at the city's animal population, is scheduled by the City Council Tuesday at 8 p.m.

At that time, cat owners are expected to protest enactment of a law designed to curb the city's feline population through a new license law.

The ordinance provides that each family will be limited to ownership of not more than two cats over the age of 10 weeks, and that licenses must be obtained for them in the same manner as for dogs.

The new law also intends to give the legal leave-ho to non-domestic cats such as ocelots, cheetahs, lions and tigers. Some cat owners have objected that it will be impossible to make cats wear license collars because the animals might choke to death.

Parents' Role in Delinquency Aired by Council

Parents should take their children to the ball games, in their own cars, as a way to prevent juvenile delinquency, Councilman George Bradford asserted Tuesday.

He made the remark in response to a request by Leon E. Grossman of 2600 Ralston lane, Redondo Beach, for free bus transportation for 51 members of the Torrance Little League to a Dodger baseball game.

Grossman said that the city would help cut-down juvenile delinquency by assisting in the program.

"I have two boys who play baseball and I take them to the ball games. If you want to cut down delinquency, let the parents take the boys in their own cars," Bradford said.

The request was denied.

Carter to Try in Final Bank

Thomas Carter, a Torrance High School student, will be one of 28 students from five counties competing for $8000 in the Bank of America Achievement Awards today at the Statler Hotel.

The competing students have already survived the contest in Santa Barbara, Inyo, Ventura and most of Los Angeles and San Bernardino Counties.

Top four winners in today's elimination will receive $1000 each; the next four, $500; the next four, $250, and the other 16, $100 each.

Carter will compete in the science and mathematics division.

North High Graduates to Be Guests of Juniors at Annual Junior-Senior Prom

North High's third annual junior-senior prom will be held Saturday in the school gymnasium. The event, sponsored by the Juniors for the graduating class, is based on the Oriental theme, "Sayonara," and will be presented complete with Japanese food. Doors will be open at 8:30 p.m. and it lasts until 1 a.m.

Freddie Gray and his orchestra will provide the dance music and Joe Yokum, KFWB disc jockey, will be on hand as master of ceremonies. Entertainment will include Joby Baker, comedian; Niki Stevens, vocalist; and the Vogues, a young vocal group.

Chairman of the prom is Pat Reynolds. The invitations committee includes Rozann Wills, Joy Bingham, Pat Rizzo and Carolyn Weir. Working on refreshments are Julie Henderson, Joyce Bonstrom, Julie Widmark, Barbara Steiner and Roberta Allen.
